

Houston Area Association of Imago
Relationship Therapists (HAAIRT) Presents:

Pat Love, Ed.D. on
Love in the Time of Twitter

The Challenge of Relationships in the Age of Social Media

It's not your imagination...twenty first century love relationships are more difficult to maintain! Fortunately, research from a multitude of disciplines is shedding light on the road to happy, healthy relationships.

Research-based strategies will help you, the clinician, to develop assurance in your work and confidence in your couples.

Join us for a day and a half (for ethics) of

- *Clinical discussion and applications
- *Movie clips
- *Short lecture
- *Practical strategies and useful handouts

Topics to be addressed include:

- * Research-based couple's therapy
- * Findings re. love, attachment & happiness
- * Update on gender science
- * Ethical review and squirm session
- * Living together loneliness and a cure
- * Common issues in couple's therapy and strategies for helping

Friday, Sept. 16th

9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

(6 CEU's)

Saturday, Sept. 17th

9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

(4 CEU's; 3 Ethics)

Location: 1712 Fairview, Houston TX 77006

Cost: $200

For Information and Registration, call Mark Groblewski, President- 832.687.7915

Pat Love, EdD, is the author of Hot Monogamy and The Truth About Love. Her newest book How to Improve Your Marriage Without Talking About It, was co-authored with Psychology Today blogger Steven Stosny. Pat has appeared on Oprah, The Today Show, and CNN, and is a regular contributor to magazines such as Cosmopolitan, Men's Health, Good Housekeeping, Men's Magazine, and Women's World. She is faculty emeritus at the Imago Institute for Relationship Therapy and a recipient of the Smart Marriages Impact Award. Pat is a licensed marriage and family therapist, a supervisor of AAMFT, and a past president of the International Association for Marriage & Family Counseling.